

ARTICULATION AGREEMENT BETWEEN
MIDWESTERN STATE UNIVERSITY AND
SOUTH TEXAS COLLEGE

Midwestern State University propose to accept accredited technical-vocational, work force education and academic courses towards the Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences degree as outlined below.

Sixty-nine hours of college level credits earned at a community college are acceptable in transfer and applicable to this degree. In most cases, the majority of the credits earned will fulfill requirements in the occupational specialty, professional development and core areas with the reminder applying as electives. Additional credits may be granted for learning experiences that are classified as non-traditional, and for senior college transfer hours.

Midwestern State University accepts non-traditional credit towards the BAAS from sources such as: CLEP, DANTES, correspondence courses, work experience, military service, self-study authenticated by examination, ACE and APICS.

Occupational Specialty is comprised of accredited vocational-technical courses, accredited work force education courses and academic courses. A student must have 24 hours of credit in this area to be eligible for the BAAS program.

Professional Development courses are key to the BAAS program and consist of course selections custom designed for each student's career objective. Courses are selected from one or more academic specialties to provide a focus that will complement the students' academic background and needs.

In the State of Texas, the common course numbering system will assist students in transferring core requirements. You school may have other courses that are not offered at Midwestern State University that transfer and satisfy core requirements. The Admissions Office at Midwestern State University will evaluate these hours during the semester of enrollment.

A student must demonstrate computer literacy by taking a proficiency test of earning credit for CMPS 1013, CMPS 1023 (COSC 1300), 1044, 1044, or EDUC 1023 or MIS 2003.

A copy of the Texas Common Course Numbers for Midwestern State University has been included. See attachment "A".

Also included is a BAAS degree plan. See attachment "B".

A minimum of 31 semester hours must be completed in residence at Midwestern State University. Students must meet all Midwestern State University requirements for graduation.

ACADEMIC FOUNDATIONS AND CORE CURRICULUM

To achieve the goals of academic foundations the faculty of Midwestern State University has developed a core curriculum for all baccalaureate degrees, which each student is expected to complete well before beginning academic specialization. The following objectives underlie the design of the core curriculum.

1. The curriculum is designed to provide each student a range of knowledge, skills, and intellectual approaches that will support his/her efforts to develop a full and productive life. To meet this objective the University offers a course of study that contributes to the development of a meaningful career and to the continued growth of the student both as an individual and as a rational and ethical member of society.
2. First, the curriculum emphasizes the acquisition of fundamental skills—skills necessary for learning, judgment, and self-expression. Chief among these are reading, analytical and critical thinking, cogent oral and written expression, computation, and quantitative reasoning.
3. Second, the curriculum seeks to develop each student’s understanding of him/herself in relation to others through a study of the liberal arts and sciences. Such study provides exposure to the collective knowledge and experience of mankind; each student learns to gather, organize, and communicate this knowledge and experience in relationships to the cultural, social, and physical environment.
4. In the aggregate, the core curriculum provides a substantial base for the second phase of university education; academic specialization to achieve significant mastery in at least one discipline or interdisciplinary field. The core curriculum not only introduces students to a variety of disciplines (and thus to related career options), but more importantly provides a perspective from which to view specialized study in relation to the whole range of human experience and endeavor. As the student progressed to academic specialization, each academic department maintains and nurtures this integrating perspective.

COURSES IN APPLIED ARTS AND SCIENCES

3113. Internship in Public Administration

Prerequisite: Junior Standing

Students will work in approved employment situations that be demonstrated to be an integral learning portion of their career development education. Student performance will be reviewed by employers and by the Director of the BAAS program. Applications for the internship require the approval of the BAAS Director or an Academic Advisor. BAAS students enrolled in the internship should keep a journal documenting the internship, noting the tasks undertaken, and assessing how those tasks are applicable to current employment and future career goals. From that journal students will write an internship report.

4113. Capstone Project

Prerequisite: Senior Standing

Working with a BAAS advisor, each student will produce a capstone portfolio as the culminating activity to his/her BAAS work. The capstone course is designed to help the student assess the educational experience in relation to career goals and the application of educational concepts to those goals. Although the portfolio should be considered a “work in progress” from the student’s first enrollment in the BAAS program, the student will enroll in BAAS 4113 only once – typically when completion of all requirements can be accomplished during the enrolled semester.
